

MONARCH BEACH GOLF LINKS

Brandon Delgado, PGA Director of Golf

Brandon has been playing golf for more than 20 years and has 12 years of golf teaching and coaching experience. Throughout his career Brandon has played and competed in chapter, section and state events at the professional level.

In 2013 Brandon completed his PGA apprenticeship at Pelican Hill Golf Club under “Golf Magazines Top 100 Instructor” Glenn Deck. Brandon continues to attend both state and national coaching seminars, improving his professional coaching knowledge. Brandon is a TPI Certified Instructor and has completed both the level one and level two Golf Mechanics Certifications from the Titleist Performance Institute.

Brandon’s goal is to teach golfers how to produce consistent lower scores, whether he is working with novice golfers or touring professionals. Brandon’s students can expect to learn practical and understandable solutions to all facets of their game. He believes that there is no one method or swing style for all golfers. Rather, his goal is to find an efficient way for every player to swing in a repeatable motion based on the student’s functional mobility and flexibility. Students will then learn the necessary stability, mobility and power sources unique to their swing whether putting, driving the ball or anything in between.
